

Priv.-Doz. Dr. med. Wolfgang Schmidt

Medical specialist in internal medicine, infectious diseases, gastroenterology and addiction medicine

1962	born in Marl
1982 – 1984	Studied human medicine and philosophy at the University of Münster
1984 – 1989	Studied human medicine at the Free University of Berlin, licence to practice medicine
1990 – 1994	Specialist training as an internist at the Auguste-Viktoria Hospital in Berlin, II. Internal Medicine Department with focus on HIV and AIDS; doctorate
1994–1997	Research assistant at the Charité Campus Benjamin Franklin, Medical Clinic I, Gastroenterology and Infectious Diseases, FU Berlin–Head of HIV outpatient clinic
1996	Specialist in internal medicine
1997–2002	Senior doctor at the Medical Clinic I, Gastroenterology and Infectious Diseases at the Benjamin Franklin University Hospital, FU Berlin–Head of the clinic’s HIV unit
2001	Postdoctoral qualification with authorisation to teach internal medicine
Since 2002	speciality: gastroenterologist
Since 2003	practising internist in Berlin, parallel research and teaching as university lecturer at the Charité Campus Benjamin Franklin Publications on HIV and intestinal immunology in AIDS, NEJM, Lancet, Gastroenterology, etc
Since 2004	Additional designation: infectiologist
Since 2016	Examiner in infectious diseases at the Medical Council
Since 2017	Additional designation: addiction medicine
since 04/01/2017	Medical Director of MVZ Infektiologie Ärzteforum Seestrasse